Dear Souhayla and Ibbi

On behalf of Cancer Council Victoria & the Lancefield-Macedon Ranges organising committee, I would like to thank you for supporting our 2011 Relay for Life that was held on 5th & 6th March.

Inspired by a sunny autumn weekend and, for many, the memory of loved ones, 29 teams consisting of 642 people took part in the Lancefield-Macedon Ranges Relay For Life, with almost $70,000 raised so far this year for the Cancer Council.

Apart from remembering those whose lives were lost to cancer, participants were supporting friends and relatives having cancer treatment, and celebrating survivors and carers. The traditional first lap was walked by cancer survivors and carers, and about 60 people shared afternoon tea.

The Cancer Council Victoria is not government funded. Most of the funds are generated by caring Victorians through personal donations, bequests or business sponsorship, or through special events such as Relay for Life. For every dollar raised by the community, 81 cents goes directly to cancer control programs.

Next year is the 10th anniversary of the local event and organisers are hoping the milestone helps drive the total fundraising tally to $1 million. Next year's event is on March 3 & 4 2012 & registrations open on 30th April 2011. For details about entering a team, joining the committee or volunteering before or during the Relay please contact me on 0438 831 427.

Once again thank you for supporting the 2011 Lancefield / Macedon Ranges Relay for Life. You have helped to bring us one step closer to a cancer free world for future generations.

Kind regards,

Melissa McCarthy
